

SEXUAL VIOLENCE SUPPORT & RESOURCES

Support and Resources

Everyone's experience is very different, and you are the only person to determine what resources will be most helpful to you. Resources are available on and off campus to hear your concerns, and support you as you process your experience and consider options.

Contacting any of these resources can be a first step in thinking through a difficult situation. Accessing campus resources does not require a formal complaint. Booth University College will assist you with accommodations you might need to continue with a safe and successful working or learning experience, even if you do not pursue any formal reporting.
